June BOTM

Last month's underground nuclear test by North Korea earns that nation the Plutonian Backhand-of-the-Month Award for June. Maybe North Korea's followup launching of three short-range missiles is a test of its east coast defense capabilities but a second nuclear test in three years only means one thing. It's time for the United States to put North Korea back on the list of possible terrorist countries and it's also time for the United Nations to stand behind the U.S. and make life hell for North Korea's communist regime. Then and only then will revolution in that nation take its natural course and deliver North Korea into the peace-keeping community of the 21st Century.

A Peek at Obama's Hidden Agenda

From our giant orbiting telescope out near the Van Allen Belts, it sure looks like U.S. President Barack Obama has finally pulled out his hidden agenda for making domestic policy. His selection of federal appeals judge Sonia Sotomayor for the U.S. Supreme Court smacks of political activism just as much as Judge Sotomayor's judicial past. Any federal court of appeals judge who once declared that a "court of appeals is where policy is made" has publicly unmasked her own hidden agenda. By admitting that, as a student at Princeton University, she felt like "a visitor landing in an alien country", she's telling us that a country made up of white people is alien to her. In a 2002 lecture, Judge Sotomayor declared, "I would hope that a wise Latina woman with the richness of her experiences would more often than not reach a better conclusion than a white male who hasn't lived that life." We at the Observer wonder if the reverse wouldn't also be true and, in that case, what was the point of this inane statement except to announce a hidden judicial agenda that is tainted with racism? The very fact that President Obama is hoping that her non-white life experiences are what will make her an effective Supreme Court Justice pretty much says it all. Racism is racism. No matter how you slice it and the highest court in any nation is no place for racism to be meted out.

Swine Flu Part of Hidden Alien Agenda

It's not easy being a more highly advanced planet and having to watch misery, murder and mayhem unfurl on a neighboring planet in the same solar system. We Plutonians have a hands-off policy where Earth is concerned because every planet has the right to make its own place in the cosmos, good or bad. Still, it galls us to know for a fact that major illnesses such as cancer, Alzheimer's Disease, influenza, AIDS and other Earthling ailments are not products of nature but by-products of manipulative and criminal alien minds. When such minds are coupled with the hidden agendas of underground planetary governments, the result is population control and political advantage. It's no way to run a planet.
